ELVER PARK

Elver Park is Madison's largest community park and is located on the southwest side of the city, south of West Towne, off of Gammon Road. Nestled by wooded hills and a pond, this shelter is the winner of the Wisconsin Park and Recreation Association (W/PRA) Excellence Award. It is near the Capitol City bike/walk path. There are two reservable picnic shelters. Set in the hills and valleys of the glacial recessional moraine, this park has as its heart the farm belonging to Prussian-born Charles Elver, who came to Wisconsin as a small child. A flour miller and fancy-stock breeder, Elver left a legacy of 50 acres to the City. The First Unitarian Society gave an additional 10 acres and monies for development. The remaining land was purchased by the City.

ELVER PARK

Elver Park is Madison's largest community park and is located on the southwest side of the city, south of West Towne, off of Gammon Road. Nestled by wooded hills and a pond, this shelter is the winner of the 2000 Wisconsin Park and Recreation Association (WPROA) Excellence Award. It is near the Capitol City bike/walk path. There are two reservable picnic shelters. Set in the hills and valleys of the glacial recessional moraine, this park has as its heart the farm belonging to Prussian-born Charles Elver, who came to Wisconsin as a small child. A flour miller and fancy-stock breeder, Elver left a legacy of 50 acres to the City. The First Unitarian Society gave an additional 10 acres and monies for development. The remaining land was purchased by the City.

HIGHLAND MANOR PARK

The Community Safe Room serves as a safe place for community residents to take shelter in severe weather situations. The Highland Manor Neighborhood Association provides safety teams that monitor NOAA weather radios and the local radio and television news media to anticipate the development of severe weather. They also open and supervise the building when the National Weather Service issues a tornado watch or greater for Dane County, continuing their supervision until the severe weather event has expired. In addition to the safety teams operation, a special pre-programmed weather radio inside the building will automatically unlock the front door when the National Weather Service issues a tornado warning for Dane County. If the Highland Manor community needs to use the facility during inclement weather during a reservation, the reserving party will receive a full refund.

Due to the dropped ceiling, activities that may cause damage are prohibited: A ceiling hook is available for hanging piñatas or other decorations.
